

The Northeast Alliance for LGBTQ+ Health Presents:

Anal Dysplasia in the LGBTQ+ Community

Thursday, June 1, 2023 | 3:30 - 4:30 pm

Presented by:

Ritch Hao, MD, BS
Asst. Professor of Clinical Medicine,
Yale University

Dr. Ritch Hao of Yale University will provide an in-depth presentation explaining the necessity for anal dysplasia screenings among members of the LGBTQ+ community. During this presentation, attendees will learn why LGBTQ+ individuals are higher at risk for anal dysplasia and learn the latest recommendations and qualifications for screenings.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this session, participants will be able to:

1. Understand what anal dysplasia is and what causes it.
2. Learn why LGBTQ+ individuals are at greater risk for anal dysplasia.
3. Learn what the latest recommendations are for treatments are available.
4. Hear about real case studies of LGBTQ+ individuals who had anal dysplasia and the processes they needed to go through for treatment.

Register at <https://www.neaetc.org/events/view/23435>

